Dedication

We, the class of 1969, in an effort to express ourselves and rededicate ourselves; dedicate our yearbook to Black Americans. Our dedication is not an act of protest, it is an act of self esteem haughtiness. The past years have been years of toil, and struggle, and strain. We feel the contributions of black individuals, as well as Black Americans, have been known since time began. Yet, for some strange reason, we have been neglected in many sections of our world. The young people of today are striving to emulate our forceful and productive forefathers who left something worthwhile to their country.

We are trying to tear down the barriers that once prevented our ancestors from achievement. Life has been hard, but Black Americans and other young Americans are triumphing toward a better life, socially and economically. To live is to be free to conquer the heights.

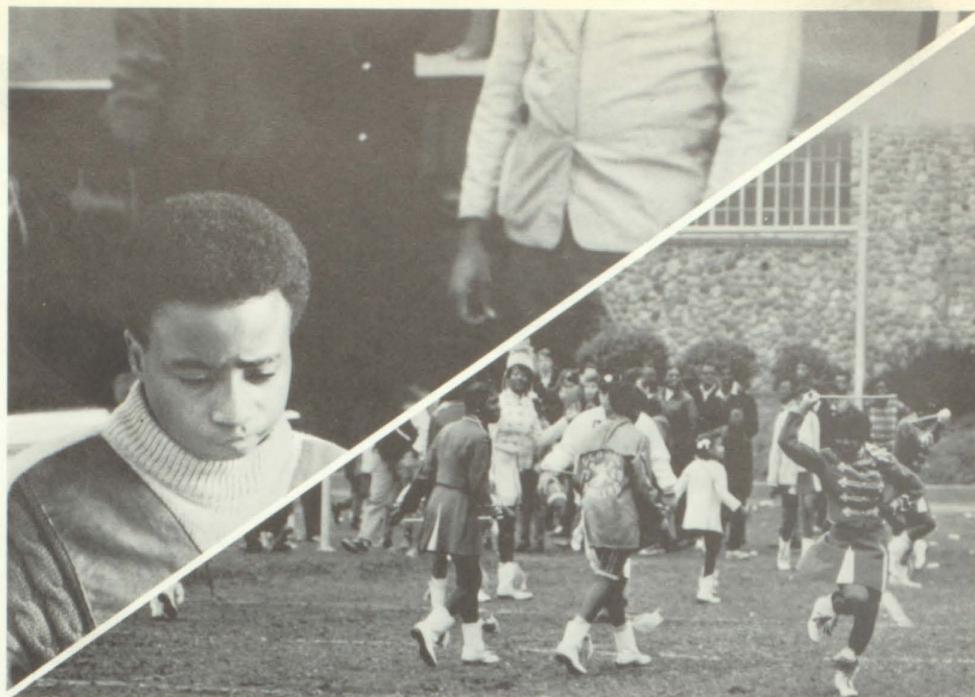

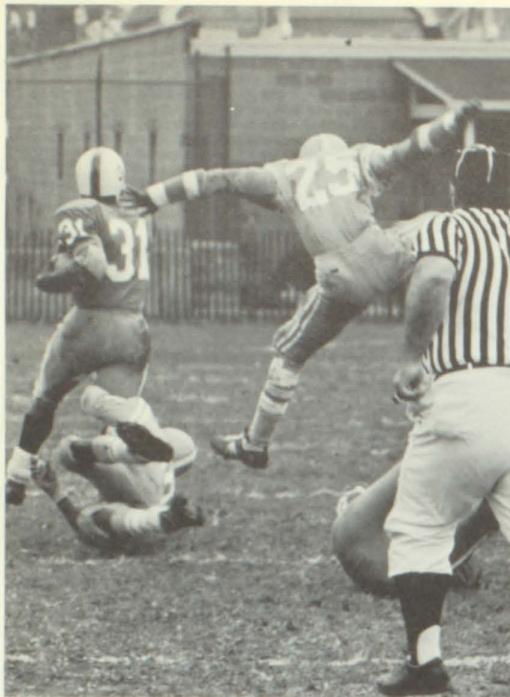

We shall rise against suppression and continue to travel our seemingly endless journey. We shall prevail. Our Black forefathers have given us a little light to start. With our progress, and with the progress of future Black Americans, we shall be able to enlighten the many who are blind and uncaring.

As proud and determined Black Americans, we shall continue to tread the path that has been made for us. The significance is the self-satisfaction of achievement. In a world as strange and complex as ours, we don't know whether we are advancing toward progress or regressing toward destruction. The journey of life-long goals starts with the first step. Life is an intricate and often times complicated journey under the best of circumstances. God grant us the strength to work together—Americans, all of us—to create the kind of atmosphere where all men receive a square deal.

Our prayer: An enlightened America!

Despite the fact that we sometimes forget it, our abide at Central is essentially of a studious nature. We have learned to acknowledge the academic and social standards presented to us, though we sometimes became discouraged or frustrated. Five days a week we—late stragglers and all—present ourselves for that part of our existence founded in the classroom. Through the warm days of September, the breezy days of Autumn, the freezing unbearable days of Winter, the countless days of rain, and the lovely fragrant days of Spring we come to Our Lady on The Hill to learn. We manage to spend a good part of our time daydreaming about what lies ahead.

We Dedicate This Thought to the Class of 1970

If a man has a talent and cannot use it, he has failed. If he has a talent and uses only half of it, he has partly failed. If he has a talent and learns somehow to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won a satisfaction and a triumph few men ever know.

“Last Will and Testament”

We the class of June 1969, being of sound mind and body and a happy disposition hereby bequeath to:

The School: Conscientious Students who go to their classes so that the halls are quiet and peaceful.

Mr. Angell: Spirit of the class of 1969.

We Believe

We must have courage—
the courage that keeps us ever conquering,
and always scorning the idea of defeat.
We believe in work.

We tackle our tasks with willing hands
and work, work till they are finished.
We realize fully that,
“We are not here to dream, to drift,
we have hard work to do and loads to lift.”
And realizing this, we are eager to get out and do our share of the world’s work.

Again, we believe in faith—
faith in ourselves and in our powers to help and uplift the world about us.
We have faith in our school . . . in our City.
Our highest ambition is to prove worthy of both.

Modern School

How can a fellow ever quit school
When just as fast as he learns one rule,
Another waits to turn his head,
And make him wish that he were dead,
Or could run to some sweet land away
Where books and teachers never stay.

Correct English I must learn to speak,
Besides dry old Spanish, French or Greek.
Can I learn it all? “Yes.” you say,
That’s a childish task this modern day;
From Ichabod Crane to Guinevere
Is very easy, you simple dear.

There’s Physics, and Algebra’s “X” and “Y,”
So hard they make one want to die—
And Chemistry that is not a sprig Easier than History or Trig,
Besides Ethics and Entomology, Geometry and Geography.

Then when I’m mastered all of this,
My education will be amiss
Unless I take Biology
And just a little Philology,
And Public Speaking—my parents say,
I must be a lawyer some future day.

So you see there is no chance for me
To stop when I learn the “Rule of Three.”
I must drink deep of Pope’s “Old Spring”;
“A little learning’s a dangerous thing.”

A MESSAGE TO CENTRAL

The years have been ones of inexpressible joy
The students go
not really wanting to leave Afraid of possibly losing
ALL that has been poured into the Soul
but I must go leads
The path is gray and dark ahead
And
what is behind is clear and carefree
This road takes me
from the happenings
Of my dear school
Something's in me
Having to keep going . . .
keep seeing . . .
keep feeling . . .
keep wondering . . .
Why life gives way to new life
Why there's a feeling of distress and loneliness.

Shirley Johnson

TALE OF A CLASS

Listen my classmates and you shall hear
Of a wonderful class and a famous year
Down through the corridors, onto the gym
March the boys who are fat and the girls who are slim.

We don't want to reform, we are as we are
But three years of this hasn't gotten us far
But now let us tally the good with the bad
And list some of the nicer things we have had

We shall never forget the games that we've won
Or the democratic way our elections were run
Even our teachers seem gentle and wise
Are we leaving them now with tears in our eyes?

Our course we have run, and now we are free
But Central High lives in our fond memory.

Vivian Underwood

Black Heritage

Our reality is being established
We demand to know ourselves
Altho we seek to find existence
Very few books are on the shelves

My Black people would like to know
How other nationalities grow so strong
With respect and dignity as a person
Yet for the Black man this is wrong

In war, we become someone needed
Overnight boys become a man
But we want this respect continuously Is this determination so hard to understand?

This affliction weighs great in our hearts
And in time we'll even this score
My people, too, will come out on top
With the opening up of many doors.

Jacqueline Briscoe

HOW LONG MUST WE WAIT?

Upon this earth which Seems so dear,
There is so much hate
We disappear.
I want us to be seen
And not with fear,
So that we can conquer
And reappear.

How long must we cry,
sigh, fear, hurt, and wear masks?
How long must we adjust,
wait, and perform menial tasks?
Now it is our time.
To go out and be a past,
For our followers to learn
And learn fast.

We have to give love
That people will see,
From our love
That we too—are free.
How long must we wait
to see our ecstasy?
How long must we wait
To solve this misery?
... you tell me.

Title I Presented an assembly program with THE HARKNESS BALLET COMPANY
of New York City, who danced a program of "Ballet Close-ups"

Several seniors were involved in two radio programs over Board of Education Station WBGO. They discussed job requirements and opportunities with representatives from industry. Mr. Miller advised the group.

WHO ARE WE?

We're toddlers getting in mother's hair

We're bubbling with energy!

We're in a huge and moving world

We're creative and anxious to learn

We're experiencing life's exciting moments

We're meeting our first grade teacher — Wow! she's smart

We're learning to control our energies

We're putting 2 + 2 together

We're seeing Spot chase Dick, and Humpty Dumpty fall.

We're going to our first party — gosh girls are silly!

We're marching down the aisle, Boy, don't Mother and Dad look proud.

We're frightened stiff! What will High School be like?

We're working, playing, and enjoying life. Why were we so afraid.

We're contemplating what lies ahead.

And Guess What? We're frightened again.

“Life is exciting”

“Life is out of sight”

*“Life
is interesting”*

*“Life
is beautiful”*

*“Life
fun”*

Memorable Years

A class with a past and a future . . . Where did we come from? . . . Where do we go from here? . . . Many of us came to Central as freshmen, although the class was brought together in its entirety at the sophomore year. We learned how to adjust to the ways and traditions of the school. Becoming proud (Centralites), we started striving to become the very best that our abilities and potential would allow.

Our teachers at Central, we found out, were the ones who would mold and shape us into individuals who would go out to compete, achieve, and yes—fail with other humans. People whom we had never seen before became our friends. Together we would become one big, happy family at Central High School. Oh! the joy of a substitute, or having an unexpected holiday. The gloom of having a surprise test, being unprepared, caught cutting, or being detained by Mr. Hampton for some wrongdoing.

During the years, we saw the coaches of various teams build champions. Central's basketball team again reigned as City Champions for the third time in six years in 1968. The Cross Country Team, after falling short in past years, finally put together a winning formula to beat Weequahic for the City Championship. Football at Central has its ups and downs. But in the future, we see Central as a coming power to be reckoned with by any team in the state.

But what happened during this year which made 1968-69 a memorable year? Was it the anxiety or anticipation of graduating? The awakening to the fact that knowledge is the key? During the past three years many situations have arisen and we have taken them in our stride. We pledged for fraternities and sororities—on the outside—and had some very successful dances and talent shows at the school. Can we call the rise of miniskirts and bright sweater shirts memorable?

What about the friendships that will last between classmates and teachers. The memories of Central High, the good and the bad, can't be forgotten by any of us. The boycott by the students, the assassinations of Martin Luther King, Jr. and Robert Kennedy, or the accomplishments of Afro-American History classes. Now that we are leaving our youthful years behind us, we see through misty eyes that Central has been the parent of knowledge, wisdom, patience, and understanding.

We'll always try to be a credit to the school and to ourselves . . . And now it is our time. It is our time to pass on . . . pass with the past Centralites. We would like to say good-bye to our teachers and friends; especially Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Martin, without these two devoted and dedicated women our class would not be what it has been. Most of all, we want to say good-bye to dear old Central. No more shall we walk through the halls together, attend classes, or sit in the auditorium to listen to Mr. Lundie play the organ. Time goes on . . . and so must we. We leave nothing behind us except a path for future Centralites to follow, and 'hope' for great things. We shall miss you.

This is the 'essence of life' as we have lived it on the Hill. These are the memories we shall cherish. This is a life we leave behind.

This Is Your Proudest Hour...

..... Culminating a period in your life you will always want to remember. As your official photographer, we feel elated to have been able to document this cherished era with photographs pulsating the very life you lived - the very thoughts you spread - the very feeling you so warmly and sincerely shared. This reality though captured in a split second will be an everlasting record for posterity.

The future holds many events for you that you will want to remember - Please feel free to call upon us for all of your photographic needs.

GWEN HALL

Well ... if we must, we must!

PATRICIA SAUNDERS

And so we come to the close of another school year. For seniors, the high school years are over. It's time to say "Adios."

The Cog 'n' Pen Staff completes its work—meets its last deadline. The yearbook has become a part of history.

Many people have given much of their time and energy in a sincere effort to make this year's book a meaningful momento. The staff wishes to extend its thanks to Mr. Bill McNamara of Taylor Publishing Company and Miss Shirley of Lorstan Studios. Our thanks to Mr. Stark and Mr. Walker for their assistance with the art work; Mrs. Greene, who supplied us with valuable reference materials; and Mr. Joe Ram who was always ready to offer advice.

With this—life on the hill rests for another year, but not before it dreams of the future.
